Estève Pannetier

Lead innovation without burnout — I help PMs align minds, missions and momentum across silos, teams and disciplines.

Kauniainen, Uusimaa, Finland

Summary

If you're leading change in a startup, university program, or corporate innovation team, you already know: good ideas aren't enough. What matters is how we communicate and work with them — with clarity, presence, and emotional intelligence.

That's where I come in.

With 15+ years across ecosystems, I support PMs, faculty, and founders in growing their voice, aligning their teams, and building cultures where ideas can breathe and momentum flows.

Whether it's a 90-min Team Coaching Cell, a Presencing Session in nature, or a longer-term Faculty Industry Journey — I design experiences where people reconnect with what matters and move forward with confidence in the emerging collective intelligence.

My approach blends structure with softness.

Rooted in research, but always human. I believe that true leadership is participatory. That we grow through dialogue. That the most powerful questions are often the ones we ask each other — not answer alone.

Curious?

Let's talk if you:

Coordinate innovation programs or cross-sector PMs
Mentor students, faculty, or founders through change
Work in L&D or People & Culture at a mission-driven company
Believe process is important — but people come first

Experience

GreenElephant.Org

15 years 10 months

Co-founder, Consultant, Designer, Researcher, Coach, Speaker and Trainer

January 2016 - Present (9 years 10 months)

Helsinki, Uusimaa, Finland

Green Elephant's mission is to unleash human potential for collaboration through conscious communication.

Business services (contractually, part time):

Consulting: I harvest strategic UX, ergonomic and design thinking to help businesses grow sustainably.

Events: I speak, facilitate, host and train teams in participatory events.

Projects: I steward change management in startups and growth companies with UX / AI Ergonomics.

Green Elephant is decoding the chemistry of human connection while gathering field-tested conversation techniques, non-verbal behaviours, rules-of-thumb and visual mental models organised into small elements to help you connect and upgrade your communication behaviours with Micro-Habits.

Rhythmic Conversation Facilitator & Musical Therapist ♀#

January 2010 - November 2023 (13 years 11 months)

Helsinki, Uusimaa, Finland

I specialise in emotional-spiritual somatic self-transformation experiences via musical percussion massage sessions using hands, sticks and tongue drums. People use it as a form of life-design through co-created transformation rituals to help metabolise big life changes. For over 20 years, I've been exploring mental wellness by innovatively blending drumming techniques with physiotherapy, massage, and holistic bodywork. I found something interesting when combining rhythmic touch and sound. My expertise lies in 4-handed therapies, in collaboration with DJ's and healthcare professionals who focus on emotional, physical, and spiritual well-being.

HVL360 x CSL Behring: Humanizing HAE through Deep Patient Insights

In partnership between HVL360 and Green Elephant Oy, this project for CSL Behring captures the lived experiences of hereditary angioedema (HAE) patients through in-depth video testimonials generated by deep interviews. Featuring two mother-daughter pairs, the project explores the emotional and physical impact of HAE, including disease progression and breakthrough attacks.

Led by Kenny Salik and Estève Pannetier, these interviews provide strategic insights that go beyond the clinical—offering a human perspective that informs both treatment strategies and patient support. The final deliverables, including a documentary and short videos, will drive meaningful conversations between patients, healthcare professionals, and the broader public.
